Dear Pastor:

I have had the opportunity to know Adam and Ayla Cottrell even before they were married. It has been a joy to see God bring them together and now use them in the harvest field. Adam and Ayla are serious about God's call upon their lives to serve on the mission field. However, they are not waiting to be used when they get there – they are already actively involved in serving through their church. They have served in the bus ministry, teaching Sunday School, and have gained experience in a variety of ministries at Cherry Street Baptist Church.

Most importantly, Adam and Ayla are soul winners. If they have a zeal to do this here in the States I know God will use them in Thailand. The ministry in Thailand is eagerly awaiting their arrival. The Cottrells were recognized as TEAM missionaries to serve alongside Ricky and Tammy Salmon. Please consider having them share their story and their passion and burden for the people of Thailand. I know they will be a blessing to your church. Will you help them get to Thailand as soon as possible?

With you in the Harvest,

Jon Konnerup
